H. E. Buermeyer, the president of the National Amateur Skating association. was describing a banquet that he had once attended in New York.

"I found this banquet interesting." he said, "and I was one of the last to leave. In the cloakroom, as I was putting on my hat and coat, I couldn't help noticing the woebegone look on the attendant's face. The poor fellow appeared worried and sad, and every litle while he sighed and muttered to himself.

"You seem disconsolate, friend," I said.

"What is the trouble?' said I. 'Haven't the guests tipped you well tonight?"
"The attendant answered in an excited "It's not only, sir, that they haven't tipped me, but they've even taken the quarter that I put in the tray for a dedecor."

HELD'S BIG BAND Liberty Park SUNDAY

(Boston Herald.) During his boyhood Benjamin F. Butler was a frequent visitor in the town of Not-ingham, N. H., where an uncle resided. Governor Marcus Morton's Rents.

(Boston Herafd.)

The late Governor Marcus A. Morton, and the prosecution summoned Pat to testify in the case. Now Pat was a job teamster, and Butler endeavored to make him admit that he had delivered liquor to the defendant.

Butler asked: "Did you ever take any freight from the railroad office and deliver to Tim Dolan?"

"Yis, sor."

"Pat, what was in that barrel?"

"I don't know, sor."

"Pat, what was in that barrel?"

"Tat, what was in that barrel?"

"Then how dare you tell the court that you don't know what was in it?"

"Because, sor, the barrel was marked

Governor Marcus Morton's Rents.

(Boston Herafd.)

The late Governor Marcus A. Morton, whose old home in Taunton is now the Morton hospital, was as careless in his dress as he was punctual in collecting his rents. It was no uncommon sight to see him walking the streets without stockings, the expanse between the bottom of his trouser legs and his shoes srevealing that fact to the public.

One day as the governor passed down the street a flutter of white beneath his coattails gave mute testimony of the need of repairs in which his trousers stood. In a group of idlers was a wag, who was also one of the governor's tenants.

"Great horn spoons!" he shouted, as "Great horn spoons!" he shouted, as

'Tim Dolan' on one end and 'Bourbon Whisky' on the other. How the devil did I know which was in it?"

the governor passed. "I never knew Governor Morton let his rents get so far behind!"
